

If the local stations would provide the same service as XM then this wouldn't be an issue. XM obviously fills a void that the local stations do not wish to fill. The opportunity is there for them to provide the same service but they do not.